

August 2, 1963

Dr. Harriet Zuckerman
Department of Sociology
Columbia University
Fayerweather Hall 415
New York 27, New York

Dear Dr. Zuckerman:

To yours of July 31, I am not able to encourage an interview as a constructive technique of collecting scientifically useful information.

The question you raise has some interest and I think you might be interested in the enclosed material which may indeed suggest a fruitful method of analysis. If you have not already done so, I think you would find it most rewarding to talk to Dr. Garfield in Philadelphia about this problem, and I know that he has a deep and sympathetic interest in it.

Sincerely yours,

Joshua Lederberg
Professor of Genetics

cc: Dr. Eugene Garfield ↓ ↓

ZUCKERMAN